CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Akan's clinical work centers on periodontology. This field addresses the health of the gums and the supporting tooth tissues, meaning the structures that hold teeth in place and keep them stable. Patients who consult her typically have concerns about their gums or about the condition of the tissues surrounding their teeth. Her doctoral training in two university departments of periodontology forms the basis of this focus.

In a periodontal assessment, Dr. Akan evaluates the current state of the gums and supporting tissues and discusses findings with the patient in a clear, measured way. Because gum health and the condition of the supporting tissues can influence the wider planning of dental care, this evaluation is generally a starting point rather than a conclusion.

INTERNATIONAL PATIENTS

Dr. Akan consults in Turkish and English, and interpreters can be arranged for patients who speak other languages. Before a visit, the Acibadem international patient team coordinates the collection of prior reports and imaging, such as dental X-rays, CT reports, laboratory or pathology results and records of previous treatment, and arranges appointments and the hospital visit.
