CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Çetin's clinical work covers diagnostic pathology in a broad sense, from routine diagnostic pathology to the review of complex cases. Histopathologic diagnosis is the core of this work: tissue samples obtained through biopsies or surgical procedures are examined under the microscope so that a pathological diagnosis can be established.

Within this field, gastrointestinal cancer pathology is a particular area of expertise. Dr. Çetin also takes part in multidisciplinary cancer case management, in which pathologists, surgeons, oncologists and other specialists discuss individual cases together. Complex case pathology review is another aspect of her work;

INTERNATIONAL PATIENTS

Dr. Çetin speaks Turkish and English, and interpreters can be arranged for patients who need support in other languages. Because pathology relies on existing material, the Acibadem international patient team coordinates the collection of prior reports and imaging, including pathology results, laboratory findings, MRI, CT, X-ray or ultrasound reports, operative notes and discharge...
