CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Şaban's work involves lower respiratory tract infections. He assesses and treats patients with bronchitis and pneumonia, where the clinical picture, existing imaging and laboratory findings are reviewed together to guide the choice of treatment and follow-up.

Dr. Şaban's areas of expertise further include pulmonary embolism, a condition in which careful evaluation and continued follow-up are important, and respiratory treatment and rehabilitation for patients recovering from or living with lung disease. Smoking cessation is another part of his practice;
