CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Abbasi's practice is devoted to male reproductive health. He evaluates and treats male infertility, working with patients to identify possible contributing factors and to discuss treatment options based on the findings. He also manages sexual dysfunction, penile curvature, and sexually transmitted diseases.

His practice also covers urinary stone disease and kidney diseases. He treats kidney stones, and his procedural work includes cystoscopy, an endoscopic examination of the urethra and bladder, and closed stone surgery, in which stones are treated through endoscopic or other closed techniques rather than an open incision.
