CLINICAL FOCUS

Orthopedic trauma is a central part of Dr. Abbasoğlu's practice. This area covers the assessment and treatment of injuries to bones and joints, including fractures, in which the choice between conservative management and surgery depends on the type of injury, its displacement and the patient's age and general condition.

His work also focuses on knee surgery and shoulder surgery. In the knee, his published research addresses meniscal surgery and the arthroscopic reconstruction of anterior cruciate ligament injuries.
