CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Ifran's clinical work centers on hematology, the branch of medicine concerned with blood disorders. His practice covers the assessment and management of adults with conditions affecting the blood, and he works within a hospital setting where laboratory investigations and other departments are available to support diagnosis and care.

A particular area of his practice is adult bone marrow transplantation. Within the Bone Marrow Transplant Unit – Adult, Dr. Ifran takes part in evaluating whether transplantation is a suitable option for a given patient, in preparing patients for the procedure and in follow-up care.
