CLINICAL FOCUS

The core of Ali Furkan Gürler's practice is physical therapy. This involves assessing a patient's physical function and applying therapeutic exercise and other physiotherapy techniques with the aim of restoring or maintaining movement and day-to-day function.

Personalized rehabilitation planning underpins these areas. Rather than applying a single standard program, Ali Furkan Gürler builds a plan around the individual patient's condition, functional goals and capacity, and adjusts it as the patient progresses.
