CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Yavuzylmaz's practice is endodontic care. He performs root canal treatment for teeth affected by dental root infections, with the aim of removing infected tissue and preserving the natural tooth where this is clinically appropriate.

Dr. Yavuzylmaz also manages bruxism, the habitual grinding or clenching of the teeth, which can contribute to enamel loss and tooth damage over time. Depending on the individual situation, treatment options he offers include custom night guards and Botox injections for bruxism.
