CLINICAL FOCUS

On the medical side, Dr. Eminzade evaluates and manages inflammatory and chronic skin conditions, including rosacea, atopic dermatitis, contact dermatitis and seborrheic dermatitis, as well as Behçet disease.

His procedural work includes cryotherapy, PRP applications, botulinum toxin applications and fractional laser treatments. In cosmetic dermatology, the choice of procedure depends on the individual skin condition, the findings of the clinical examination and the patient's expectations, which are discussed before any treatment is planned.
