CLINICAL FOCUS

Asım Sakallı's clinical focus lies in physical medicine and rehabilitation, physical therapy and rehabilitation care. In practice, this involves working with patients whose movement, strength or day-to-day function has been affected, and guiding them through exercises and therapy sessions designed around their individual needs.

Rehabilitation care of this kind is typically delivered in coordination with the physicians overseeing the patient's treatment, so that therapy goals remain consistent with the overall medical plan. Patients who wish to learn more about how such programs are organized may refer to the Physical Therapy Program page, which describes the general structure of physical therapy care offered to international patients.
