CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Dr. Erdoğan's practice is head and neck surgery and the management of head and neck cancers, including oral cancer and cancer of the tongue and tongue base. Assessment in these cases generally involves a careful review of the patient's history, a clinical examination and consideration of existing imaging and pathology findings before treatment options are discussed.

In otology, Dr. Erdoğan's areas of expertise include hearing loss in children and cochlear implants, as well as vertigo and balance disorders. Her surgical work further includes tonsillectomy and rhinoplasty. Whether a particular procedure is suitable depends on the individual patient's findings and overall health, and this is determined only after a clinical evaluation.
