CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Atay's practice is the evaluation and treatment of common inflammatory skin conditions. This includes acne treatment, as well as care for atopic dermatitis, contact dermatitis and seborrheic dermatitis.

In cosmetic dermatology, Dr. Atay's areas of expertise include botulinum toxin treatment and microneedling radiofrequency. As with medical dermatology, cosmetic procedures are discussed on an individual basis after a clinical examination, taking into account the patient's skin type, medical history and expectations.
