CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Bozkır's areas of expertise cover a range of periodontal conditions. She evaluates and treats gum disease, gum bleeding and gum abscesses, and performs tartar removal as part of routine periodontal care. Patients with gum recession may be assessed to determine the extent of tissue loss and the treatment approaches that may be suitable in their case.

For patients who have dental implants, Dr. Bozkır provides peri-implantitis treatment, which addresses inflammation of the tissues around an implant. Her practice also includes laser gum treatment, which may be considered for certain periodontal indications after clinical assessment.
