CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Demirel's clinical work covers communicable diseases in adults, including HIV and AIDS, HPV, syphilis and other sexually transmitted infections. She evaluates patients with these conditions, reviews existing test results and discusses diagnostic and treatment options as well as prevention.

She also treats shingles and lower respiratory tract infections such as bronchitis and pneumonia. The choice of investigation and treatment depends on the individual patient's history, symptoms and any prior findings, and is decided after a clinical assessment.
