CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Tatlıadım's work centers on women's health across different stages of life. In gynecology, she sees women for evaluation of symptoms and for routine follow-up, taking a history, performing a clinical examination and reviewing any existing reports before discussing the findings and the options that may be appropriate.

A significant part of her practice is pregnancy care and obstetric care. This includes following women during pregnancy, monitoring the health of mother and baby over time and discussing the course of the pregnancy and delivery.
