CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Konya's work involves preserving and restoring natural teeth. She treats cavities and damaged tooth structure with dental fillings, and manages fractured teeth and enamel loss. When decay or trauma has reached the pulp, she evaluates patients for root canal treatment, including cases of tooth root infection.

Her clinical interests also include the gums and the appearance of the smile. She treats gum disease and gum recession, and she evaluates patients with bad breath to identify possible dental causes. In aesthetic dentistry, Dr. Konya plans and places porcelain, laminate and zirconia restorations, taking into account the condition of the underlying teeth and gums as well as the patient's expectations.
