CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Özdemir's work concerns common inflammatory and infectious skin conditions. She treats skin infections and offers wart and condyloma treatment, and she manages rosacea and sun allergy. Where appropriate, she uses cryotherapy, a cold-based technique that can be applied to selected skin lesions.

Hair loss is another area of her practice. Dr. Özdemir evaluates and treats hair loss, including alopecia areata, and she also addresses hair loss during pregnancy, when the choice of treatment needs to take the pregnancy into account. Within cosmetic dermatology, her work includes botulinum toxin treatment and skin rejuvenation approaches.
