CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Dr. Yücetürk's practice is the evaluation of women with reduced ovarian reserve. Ovarian reserve refers to the quantity of eggs remaining in the ovaries, and a reduction may affect a woman's reproductive planning. Assessment usually begins with a careful review of the patient's history, menstrual pattern, and any previous fertility investigations or treatments. Within this context, Dr.

Dr. Yücetürk also has a professional interest in egg freezing, a fertility preservation approach in which eggs are retrieved and stored for possible use at a later time. Whether egg freezing is appropriate depends on individual circumstances, including ovarian reserve, medical history, and personal goals. Dr.

INTERNATIONAL PATIENTS

Dr. Yücetürk consults in Turkish and English, and interpreters can be arranged for patients who speak other languages. Before a visit, the Acibadem international patient team coordinates the collection of prior reports and imaging, such as ultrasound reports, laboratory results including hormone tests, and records of any earlier fertility treatments, and arranges appointments and the...
