CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kazybaev's areas of expertise center on cardiovascular surgery and on the care of patients with complex or critical conditions. He is involved in chronic wound care and treatment, which is relevant for patients whose wounds are slow to heal and who require ongoing assessment and management.

Palliative care is also among his listed areas of expertise. In this context, the aim is to relieve symptoms and support comfort and quality of life for patients with serious illness. Each patient's situation is assessed individually, and the suitability of any treatment depends on the clinical findings, the patient's overall condition, and a discussion of the available options.
