CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Ören's practice is dedicated to the care of critically ill patients. Intensive care treatment involves continuous monitoring of vital functions, support of breathing and circulation, and the coordinated management of medical problems that affect several organ systems at once.

Advanced life support refers to the structured measures used when a patient's heart or breathing fails, including airway management, ventilation support and medication given in an emergency setting. Palliative care addresses the needs of patients with advanced or life-limiting illness, with attention to the relief of symptoms, comfort and communication with patients and their families about the goals of treatment.
