CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Yalçın's areas of expertise are intensive care, anesthesiology, reanimation and neurological sciences. In the intensive care unit, her work involves the monitoring and treatment of critically ill patients whose condition requires continuous observation and support of vital functions.

Her experience at the Marmara University Institute of Neurological Sciences adds a neurological dimension to her practice. Patients with neurological conditions who need intensive care may require particularly careful monitoring, and her background in neurological sciences informs how she approaches this group.
