CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Yüksel evaluates and manages patients with acute and chronic conditions of the lungs and airways. Her areas of expertise include asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), lung nodules, lower respiratory tract infections, and lung and other thoracic cancers. Where the clinical picture requires direct examination of the airways, she performs bronchoscopy and EBUS when indicated;

A second strand of her practice concerns sleep-related conditions, including insomnia and sleep apnea, together with other sleep disorders that can affect breathing and daytime functioning. In line with her subspecialty interest in Smoke-Free Life, she also offers smoking cessation support, which may form part of the overall management plan for patients with COPD, asthma, or other lung conditions.
