CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Erdoğan's areas of expertise are trauma care and emergency interventions. In the emergency setting, his role involves the initial evaluation of patients who present with acute injuries or sudden medical problems, followed by stabilization and the interventions appropriate to the clinical picture.

His background in Family Medicine complements this emergency practice, as it provides a broad view of general medical conditions across age groups. This is relevant when patients arrive with undifferentiated symptoms, when several conditions may be present at the same time, or when a chronic disease influences the management of an acute problem.
