CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Aral's practice is devoted to medical dermatology. She assesses and treats active acne, eczema (atopic dermatitis) and athlete's foot, a fungal infection of the skin of the feet.

In cosmetic dermatology, Dr. Aral's practice includes botulinum toxin applications and PRP (platelet-rich plasma) treatment. Whether a procedure is appropriate, and which one, is decided after a clinical assessment of the individual patient's skin or hair concern and a discussion of the available options, including their limitations.
