CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Karan evaluates and manages a range of lung diseases. Her work covers acute and chronic airway conditions, including asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, as well as lower respiratory tract infections. She also assesses patients with pulmonary embolism and pulmonary fibrosis.

A further part of her practice concerns lung nodules and lung cancer and other thoracic cancers. In this setting, she performs bronchoscopy and endobronchial ultrasound (EBUS), procedures that allow the airways and nearby structures to be examined and, where appropriate, samples to be obtained for further assessment.
