CLINICAL FOCUS

The core of Dr. Mert's work is anesthesia management. This covers the assessment of a patient before a procedure, the planning of an anesthetic approach that takes the patient's history and current condition into account, the administration and monitoring of anesthesia during the procedure, and the follow-up of the patient as the effects of anesthesia wear off.

Her second area of focus is reanimation, which refers to the care of patients whose vital functions need support or restoration. In this setting the anesthesiologist monitors breathing, circulation and other vital parameters and responds to changes as they occur. As with anesthesia management, the approach is adapted to the individual patient, and Dr. Mert works alongside the other specialists involved in the patient's care.
