CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Camcı assesses and plans systemic treatment for patients with a broad range of cancers. His clinical interests include breast cancer, liver cancer, biliary tract cancers, thyroid cancer, brain tumours, spinal and spinal cord tumours, and head and neck cancers. He also sees patients with bone tumours and cancers of the colon and rectum.

Within uro-oncology, his work covers bladder cancer as well as cancers of the prostate and kidney. Alongside cancer-directed care, Dr. Camcı is involved in cancer screening and in evaluating cancer genetics where a hereditary component may be relevant to diagnosis or to the wider family. He also provides lymphedema treatment for patients who develop swelling after cancer surgery or other oncological therapy.
