CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kalaycı's practice is concentrated on cross-sectional imaging. Magnetic resonance imaging is used to evaluate soft tissues, organs and vessels without ionizing radiation, while computed tomography provides detailed images that can support the assessment of many conditions across the body.

Dr. Kalaycı has contributed to the radiology literature. He translated Chapter 15, Abdominal Magnetic Resonance Angiography, of the textbook MR imaging of the Abdomen and Pelvis (translation editor Güner Sonmez).
