CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Dr. Baran's practice is joint replacement surgery of the hip and knee. This includes hip replacement surgery and knee replacement surgery for patients whose joint condition is being evaluated for surgical treatment.

Whether a replacement is appropriate, and which approach may be considered, depends on the individual patient's findings, symptoms and general health, and is discussed on a case-by-case basis...

Dr. Baran also treats sports and knee injuries. His areas of expertise include meniscus tears and cruciate ligament rupture, conditions that are common in active patients and that may be managed conservatively or surgically depending on the type of injury, the patient's activity level and the examination findings.
