CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Ertan's practice involves chronic inflammatory skin diseases. She assesses and manages psoriasis, eczema (atopic dermatitis) and seborrheic dermatitis, conditions that often follow a relapsing course and may require long-term follow-up and adjustment of treatment over time.

Dr. Ertan also performs selected dermatologic and aesthetic procedures. These include mole removal, laser hair removal, exosome applications and hair mesotherapy, alongside general skin care. The suitability of any procedure is considered on an individual basis, taking into account the patient's skin type, medical history and expectations.
