CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. İlham's practice is intensive care treatment. This involves the assessment and management of patients whose condition requires continuous monitoring, respiratory or circulatory support, and coordinated input from several specialties.

Dr. İlham also provides palliative care, which aims to relieve symptoms and support comfort and quality of life for patients with serious or advanced illness. Pain management is a further area of his expertise, both in the postoperative period and for patients whose pain needs a longer-term plan.
