CLINICAL FOCUS

A central part of Ceren Güven's work is nutritional counselling. This typically begins with a review of the patient's current eating habits, medical history and any ongoing treatments, followed by the preparation of a dietary plan that is adjusted to the individual's needs and circumstances.

Her practice also covers diet-related care, meaning nutritional support for patients whose diet is affected by, or forms part of the management of, a medical condition or treatment. In these situations she coordinates her guidance with the patient's physicians so that dietary advice remains consistent with the overall care plan.
