CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Demircioğlu's work concerns chronic and inflammatory skin disease. She evaluates and treats patients with eczema, including atopic dermatitis, contact dermatitis and seborrheic dermatitis, as well as acne. She also treats hyperhidrosis, and botulinum toxin treatment is among the procedures she performs.

Her practice further includes infectious and venereal dermatology: fungal infections, other skin infections, sexually transmitted diseases and genital warts. In addition, she assesses patients with suspected or confirmed skin tumors, including malignant melanoma, and her clinical interests extend to other dermatological tumors.
