CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Gündoğan's work is well-child follow-up: periodic examinations in which a child's growth, weight gain, feeding and general development are reviewed and any concerns raised by parents are discussed.

Her practice also covers pediatric infectious diseases. She sees children with upper respiratory tract infections, croup and chickenpox, and evaluates recurrent fever patterns such as PFAPA syndrome. Assessment usually begins with the child's history and a clinical examination;
