CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Ece Burçak Özüygüntaş's practice concerns the spine. She assesses and treats patients with neck, back and disc pain, as well as postural changes of the spinal curves such as lumbar hypolordosis and loss of cervical lordosis.

Her other areas of expertise include frozen shoulder syndrome, muscle and nerve disorders, and sports medicine and sports traumatology, in particular knee and joint injuries. In these conditions, physiotherapy generally aims to restore range of motion and strength and to support a gradual return to everyday or sporting activity, with the...
