CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Çetin's practice involves the care of newborns and young infants. This includes the assessment and follow-up of newborn jaundice, routine newborn follow-up visits, and the evaluation of infant colic.

Dr. Çetin also manages common childhood illnesses, including upper respiratory tract illnesses, and the diagnosis and treatment of pediatric infectious diseases. Her approach places emphasis on age-appropriate assessment and on follow-up tailored to each child's clinical needs, so that families receive clear information about what has...
