CLINICAL FOCUS

Ecem Hepgüler provides psychotherapy for a range of psychological conditions. Her areas of expertise include anxiety disorders, panic disorder, major depression and obsessive compulsive disorder. She also works with individuals affected by post-traumatic stress disorder, for which her EMDR therapy training is relevant, and with people experiencing eating disorders.

In addition to individual therapy, she offers family and marriage counseling, supporting couples and families who are dealing with relationship difficulties or communication problems. Her work with children and young people includes assessment and support for dyslexia and hyperactivity, drawing on her experience as a school psychologist and her training in the Moxo Attention...
