CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Imanov's area of practice is cardiology, covering the evaluation and care of patients with heart disease and circulatory system disorders. Patients may be referred to him with symptoms that raise the possibility of a cardiac condition, with a diagnosis already established elsewhere, or for a review of existing treatment.

A cardiology assessment with Dr. Imanov typically brings together the patient's history, current symptoms, medication use and any previous cardiac test results. Where earlier investigations are available, these are reviewed alongside the clinical examination so that findings can be interpreted in context. Dr.
