CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Çapkinoğlu's practice is devoted to obesity treatment. He evaluates patients who are considering surgery for obesity, reviews their medical history and metabolic status, and discusses whether a surgical approach is appropriate in their situation. The bariatric procedures within his area of expertise include sleeve gastrectomy and gastric bypass.

In the field of anorectal diseases, Dr. Çapkinoğlu assesses and treats hemorrhoids and anal fissure. He also treats colorectal cancer and performs endocrine surgery. His expertise in breast surgery includes mastectomy and breast reconstruction. Treatment decisions are made after a careful review of the diagnosis, the findings of the clinical examination and any existing imaging and pathology results.
