CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Erdal's clinical work centers on coronary artery disease and its related conditions, including atherosclerosis, angina and myocardial infarction. His diagnostic and interventional practice includes coronary angiography and percutaneous coronary intervention, as well as the assessment and treatment of chronic total occlusion (CTO), in which a coronary artery is completely blocked.

In structural heart disease, his areas of expertise include transcatheter aortic valve implantation (TAVI) and mitral valve regurgitation. He also evaluates and manages patients with heart failure and performs ablation for rhythm-related conditions.
