CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Sahillioğlu's practice centers on anesthesiology and reanimation. This includes the planning and delivery of anesthesia for patients undergoing procedures, as well as their care before, during, and after those procedures as part of perioperative care.

Within anesthesia, he has a particular focus on regional anesthesia, in which specific regions of the body are numbed rather than using general anesthesia alone, and on airway management, the techniques used to keep a patient's breathing secure during anesthesia and in critical care settings.
