CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Erdemoğlu evaluates and treats adults with a wide range of solid tumors. His areas of expertise include breast cancer, stomach cancer, pancreatic cancer and colorectal cancer within the gastrointestinal group, as well as prostate cancer. In gynecological oncology he sees patients with ovarian cancer and endometrial cancer.

He also treats patients with lung and other thoracic cancers, head and neck cancers and bone tumors. Because the management of these conditions may involve several specialties, the medical oncology assessment focuses on the patient's diagnosis, stage, prior treatments and general health in order to discuss the options that may be appropriate for the individual case.
