CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Duman's practice concerns conditions that affect vision over time. He assesses and manages patients with cataract, and his work also includes glaucoma, a condition in which careful monitoring of eye pressure and the optic nerve is generally part of long-term follow-up.

Dr. Duman also sees patients with refractive errors such as myopia and astigmatism, and with keratoconus, a progressive thinning and steepening of the cornea that requires assessment of corneal shape and thickness before any treatment decision. His clinical interests further include conjunctivitis and other conditions affecting the surface of the eye.

INTERNATIONAL PATIENTS

Dr. Duman consults in Turkish and English, and interpreters can be arranged for patients who speak other languages. Before a visit, the international patient team coordinates the collection of prior reports and imaging, such as previous eye examination records, laboratory results, operative notes and discharge summaries, and arranges appointments and the hospital visit.
