CLINICAL FOCUS

A substantial part of Dr. Biçakci's work involves endoscopic evaluation of the digestive tract. He performs endoscopy, gastroscopy and colonoscopy, esophagoscopy for the assessment of the esophagus, and ERCP for the investigation and management of biliary and pancreatic conditions.

Dr. Biçakci also assesses and manages patients with inflammatory bowel disease, including Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis. His practice further extends to liver diseases and pancreatic diseases, where evaluation typically combines clinical history, laboratory results, imaging and, where appropriate, endoscopic findings.
