CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Kuşku's clinical focus covers common inflammatory skin conditions as well as infectious and oncological skin disease. He provides active acne treatment and manages rosacea, a chronic condition that typically affects the face, and urticaria, which presents with itchy wheals and may be acute or chronic.

His practice also includes skin infections, fungal infections, warts and sexually transmitted diseases, including genital warts. He performs cryotherapy, a procedure in which lesions such as warts are treated with controlled freezing. In addition, Dr. Kuşku assesses patients with suspected or diagnosed skin cancer;
