CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Çatalbaş assesses and treats patients presenting with acute conditions in the emergency setting. His areas of expertise include trauma and emergency interventions, where the initial priorities are to identify injuries or acute problems, stabilize the patient and decide on the next steps in care.

Within this group, his expertise covers drowning and acute hypoxia, in which the body's oxygen supply is suddenly reduced and rapid assessment is needed, as well as airway obstruction, where securing and maintaining breathing is the first concern.
