CLINICAL FOCUS

A significant part of Dr. Acar's practice is dedicated to headache disorders. He evaluates and treats patients with migraine, including the use of biological treatments for migraine where appropriate, and he performs nerve blocks as part of headache management. He also assesses patients with trigeminal neuralgia, a facial pain condition that requires careful differentiation from other causes of head and facial pain.

Dr. Acar also cares for patients with neurodegenerative and movement-related conditions. He assesses memory loss and provides diagnosis and care planning for dementia and Alzheimer's disease, as well as Parkinson's disease and essential tremor.
