CLINICAL FOCUS

The clinical focus of Dr. Hadzhiyusein is inpatient medical care. This involves the clinical assessment of patients admitted to the hospital, including the review of their history, current symptoms and existing findings, and the identification of any changes in their condition that may require attention.

A further part of his role is treatment coordination. Inpatient care frequently involves several departments, and Dr. Hadzhiyusein helps to align the contributions of the specialists, nursing staff and other professionals involved so that the patient's treatment proceeds in an orderly way.
