CLINICAL FOCUS

Dr. Eşbah's practice includes the assessment and treatment of psoriasis, rosacea, and acne, alongside pigmentation disorders and hair loss, including hair loss during pregnancy. She also treats urticaria in children, and provides treatment planning for paediatric patients as part of her routine work.

In addition to medical dermatology, Dr. Eşbah performs a number of procedures. These include botulinum toxin applications, exosome treatments, and the gold needle procedure. Whether a given procedure is appropriate depends on the individual patient's skin condition, medical history, and treatment goals, which are discussed during consultation before any plan is made.
