CLINICAL FOCUS

A large part of Dr. Kotan's work is preventive. She provides childhood vaccinations and well-child follow-up, monitoring development over time so that changes can be identified early. She assesses and treats pediatric upper respiratory tract infections and other pediatric infectious diseases, and she follows children with growth...

Dr. Kotan also monitors pediatric nutrition and evaluates children with iron deficiency and anemia, conditions that may be related to diet, growth or other underlying causes and are usually assessed with a clinical examination and laboratory tests.
